But just how many Audis does he need ...By The Big FMore in-your-face bombs from Clarkson, with social commentary and reviews of cars. Or should I say Audis and Mercs. Normally, I would give the man five stars. He writes superbly and is FUNNY. But just how many Audis does he need to review? A little more variation would work. But I'll continue to buy his books and read every word, not because I'm a disciple, but because I like good writing and good British humour.4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Not the 6th "Accirding to Clarkson"By Barbara AlbrittonOn the full site this is described at the 6th in the "World According to Clarkson", it is not. It is a compilation of his Sunday Times motoring columns which are well-written, but not strictly social commentary as the others are. The Kindle site and app. describe it correctly, but in order to purchase you have to go to the full site. I would have ordered a sample, but buoyed by the "6th in the series" comment (because that's what I was hoping it was) I went ahead and purchased it.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Consistent Entertaining ClarksonBy DMThe columns were published several years ago when the included cars were new. That does not significantly diminish the fun tone of these articles. Clarkson's voice is still entertaining as are his side commentaries.

What Could Possibly Go Wrong... is the sixth book in Jeremy Clarkson's bestselling The World According to Clarkson series.No one writes about cars like Jeremy Clarkson. While most correspondents are too buys diving straight into BHP, MPG and MPH, Jeremy appreciates that there are more important things to life. Don't worry, we'll get to the cars. Eventually. But first we should consider: · The case for invading France · The overwhelming appeal of a nice sit-down · The inconvenience of gin and tonic · Why clothes are no better than ice cream · Spot-welding with the Duchess of Kent · And why Denmark is the best place in the world Armed only with conviction, curiosity, enthusiasm and a stout pair of trousers, Jeremy hurtles around the world - along motorway, autoroute, freeway and autobahn - in search of answers to life's puzzles and ponderings without forethought or fear for his own safety. What, you have to ask, could possibly go wrong...Praise for Clarkson:'Brilliant... laugh-out-loud' Daily Telegraph'Outrageously funny... will have you in stitches' Time Out'Very funny . . . I cracked up laughing on the tube' Evening StandardJeremy Clarkson began his career on the Rotherham Advertiser. Since then he has written for the Sun, theSunday Times, the Rochdale Observer, the Wolverhampton Express Star, all of the Associated Kent Newspapers and Lincolnshire Life. Today he is the tallest person working in British television.
